

Wild Roots – Parent Testimonial

The Little Lions Wild Roots program has greatly exceeded our expectations. We commend it to all of our parent friends, who regularly comment on the positive changes the program has inspired in our son. His curiosity has developed as expected with any three-year-old, but the quality of his inquiries has improved dramatically as well. The routines he's learned have cemented a respect for nature and for others. His sensitivity and empathy have skyrocketed. We have observed improved confidence among other children in the program, while our son (fearless and overconfident since birth) has refined his ability to gauge risk and modify his actions. I suspect this comes mostly from hours of tree climbing.

He has learned to use tools more effectively, and to ensure safe tool use by managing the space around tool-users. We're amazed by how well he remembers fire safety protocols and animal encounter strategies. He adores his 'forest school friends' and tells us that Wild Roots is 'lots and lots of super fun!'
